

HP SOLUTION CENTER

“PROOF of CONCEPT” and CONSULTANCY REFERENCES

On Intel based industrial standard server systems positioned within HP Solution Center; operations such as proof of concept of the design made for the clients and business partners, consultancies for the new technologies and consultancies for applications and systems integrated with server systems are realized.

With this infrastructure, the purpose is to show the clients the service, application and platforms in integration that they will be positioned in their projects. By doing this, it is made possible to test the applications prior to projects in real environments. Some of the consultancies executed at the Solution Center are mentioned here below:

Server Systems and Virtual Architectural Consultancies / 2007 - 2008

2007 / TURKISH NOTARIES' ASSOCIATION

For an inner project of Turkish Notaries' Association, with our business partner, we realized the installation of enterprise data storage systems and the server virtualization architecture, which will offer the best performance in these systems, and also the compatibility and performance tests on these installations.

2007 / BDDK

The exact realization of the structure planned during BDDK disaster protection systems and data-storage replication projects and the proof of this infrastructure was executed. The components of the infrastructure installed and in use are HP EVA 4000 Storage System, HP Storage Mirroring and HP Continuous Access.

2007 / YAPI KREDİ

With HP Openview Data Protector backup and restore application and MSL 2024 Tape Library, the backup demonstration supporting the backup strategies was realized.

2007 / BOYDAK HOLDİNG

For the new projects to be realized at Boydak Holding, the most appropriate infrastructure design for data storage and protection from disaster and the concept proof of the related infrastructure were performed.

2007 / İSKİ

Before designing the most appropriate data storage and disaster protection infrastructure, the demonstrations of Enterprise Virtual Array (EVA) and its components within the Solution Center were realized.
